modular lounge furniture

Blogger impresses by its simple yet ultra-modern design. With its flexible seating components, the sofa creates its own sense of space. With their Blogger sofa, SMV, in partnership with eigenart Designstudio's duo Jan-Peter Eicker and Fabian Fern, have come up with ideal solutions for tomorrow's workplaces. #### Benefits:

For the very first time at this year's Orgatec trade fair in Cologne SMV is showcasing its Blogger seating as an armchair as well as a 2- and 3-seater sofa.

One of the 0.70-metre-wide seating components can optionally be replaced with a table component. This is the perfect complement for use in waiting areas and will bring a stylish tone to every foyer.

The different elements can be put together individually like a construction kit. Combined with an optional armrest, the possibilities imaginable for Blogger seating know virtually no bounds.
