

Light@Side

Coffee table made from lightweight panels

When its services are required elsewhere, there's no danger of Light@Side standing in your way. Despite its low weight, as a member of the Light@ family it is nonetheless incredibly robust. This can be attributed to its inner core, comprising sturdy cardboard honeycombs. Thanks to its choice of decorative finishes, Light@Side not only satisfies modern design requirements but also those relating to corporate identity. Design: my-n-my
